ADVERTISING GUIDELINES FOR HEALTHCARE FACILITIES AND SERVICES

(PRIVATE HOSPITALS, CLINICS, RADIOLOGICAL CLINICS AND MEDICAL LABORATORIES)

1.0 Introduction

- 1.1 These Guidelines are intended to complement the provisions of the Medicines (Advertisement and Sale) Act 1956 (Revised 1983) and the Medicine Advertisements Board Regulations 1976.
- 1.2 Advertisements include any notice, circular, report, commentary, pamphlet, label, wrapper or other document, and any announcement made orally or by any means of producing or transmitting light or sound.
- 1.3 Unless exempted as laid out in section 3.0, advertisements shall only be publicised upon approval by the Medicine Advertisements Board.
- 1.4 Registered medical practitioners who wish to advertise their facilities or services should also abide by the 'Code of Professional Conduct' of the Malaysian Medical Council and related guidelines and directives issued by the Council.

2.0 General Principles

- 2.1 The purpose of these Guidelines is to provide information to private hospitals, clinics, radiological clinics and medical laboratories regarding the regulations governing advertisements of healthcare services offered by these facilities that are disseminated to the general public.
- 2.2 The information provided in the advertisements must be factually accurate and capable of being substantiated. It must not be exaggerated, false, misleading or deceptive.
- 2.3 The authenticity and the accuracy of the information imparted in the advertisements should be verifiable by the Medicine Advertisements Board. The public should not be misled into drawing inaccurate impressions of the ability or services offered by the healthcare facility.
- 2.4 The information provided in the advertisements shall be in strict compliance with these set guidelines.
- 2.5 Information about advances in medical services and therapeutics is best conducted through the appropriate medical forums and professional publications to avoid the risk of unbalanced and inaccurate reporting.
- 2.6 Features or articles that contain elements of advertising of skills or services will be deemed to be promotional in nature and regulated as such. For opening ceremonies, the management is responsible in ensuring that there is no undue publicity to the new healthcare facility and of the skills of professionals providing services related to the event.

3.0 Exemptions

Approval by the Medicine Advertisements Board is not required for the following:

- 3.1 Advertisements that do not refer to any skill or services relating to the treatment, prevention or diagnosis of any ailment, disease, injury, infirmity or condition affecting the human body.

Example: Advertisement of room rate charges according to categories by Private Hospitals.

Example: Private medical clinic advertisements invite patients with statements such as "klinik mesra keluarga anda", "trust and care for years", "you are in safe hands" etc. without referring to any healthcare services offered at the premises.

Example: Directional road signage showing the location and distance of a private medical clinic or private hospital premises.

- 3.2 The current practice of information being circulated within the profession through medical journals and newsletters which are published by medical professional bodies.

- 3.3 The present arrangement whereby any professional body related to the medical profession, or any other allied profession established by or registered under any written law which has been granted approval by the Honourable Minister of Health, Malaysia may publish announcements or information for the general public.

- 3.4 The following do not require Medicine Advertisements Board approval subject to the condition that all stated criteria are met.
